

Jackson Clarke

Score: 100/100

Justification: I answered 5 of the 20-point questions.

- Why is this week's topic important for teamwork?
- How do plan on contributing to the team, besides completing your tasks?
- Tell me about what you taught someone? And what did they learn, that they didn't know before?
- If you were to write your experience as STAR story, how would you phrase it?
- If this was a religion class, how would you relate this week's topic to the gospel?

This week's topic is important for teamwork because everyone will feel pressure when in a team and during life in general and learning how to deal with it and help others deal with it is very important for teamwork. I plan on contributing to the team by being cool under pressure and helping others who struggle with the pressure of work and life. I taught my younger sister about pressure and how to deal with it. She learned about work and life balance and how to apply that to her life. If my experience was a STAR story, it would be: the situation was that my sister expressed the stress she feels from school. My task was to give her advice. My action was to explain what we learned about in class in regard to pressure and making sure we balance life well. The result was that my sister understands more about pressure and has more tools to apply to her life. If this was a religion class, this week's topic would relate because Satan will always put us under pressure through temptations and we can deal with this pressure by using the tools that God gave us such as the scriptures, prayer, and the sacrament.